Experience

Through my various volunteer work and participation in sports, I have gained many new social skills. Along with that, I can work well with a group or independently.

- University:
- Aquatic Invertebrate Monitoring, North Campus Open Space Lab (Alison Rickard)
  - This is a sorting lab where I used dissecting microscopes to sort through water and substrate samples taken from the Devereux Slough. I looked for invertebrates such as ostracods. I also got to participate in some field work where we took water samples from the slough for analysis. This research was to monitor the health and microbiome of the slough.
- Invertebrate Sorting, PISCO/Caselle Lab (Joe Kolda)

- This research involved monitoring micro invertebrate population densities at different locations at the Channel Islands and Santa Barbara Coastline over the last decade. In this position I also used dissecting microscopes.

- High School:
